SUBJECTIVE

The participant has been feeling okay, but still finds it hard to get out of the house. They managed to go to the shops twice, using the bus as planned, and felt a bit anxious but achieved it. They also reported that the bus was crowded once, but coped by sitting near the front. Recently, the participant experienced a minor head injury. They need help with their grocery list for next time.

OBJECTIVE

The participant demonstrated progress toward increasing community participation by going to the shops twice and using the bus as planned, but experienced a minor setback due to a head injury.

ASSESSMENT

The participant is making progress in increasing their community participation, but still requires support with managing anxiety, daily tasks such as grocery shopping, and monitoring their physical well-being after the minor head injury.

PLAN

Continue to support the participant in increasing their community participation, work on developing a grocery list for their next shopping trip, and monitor their recovery from the head injury.

PARTICIPANT VOICE

The participant expressed that getting out of the house is still hard, but they are making progress. They also expressed a need for help with their grocery list and are concerned about their recent minor head injury.
