SUBJECTIVE

Sarah reported feeling okay but noted that leaving the house remains challenging. She has a head injury and mentioned it affects her confidence in navigating public transport. She managed to attend the shops twice and used the bus both times, feeling anxious but achieving the goal. She mentioned the bus was crowded once but sat near the front and required assistance with her grocery list next time.

OBJECTIVE

Sarah successfully used the bus twice, sat near the front during the crowded instance, and expressed a need for support with grocery list organization. No incidents were reported beyond the crowded bus experience. No safety risks or injuries related to the head injury were observed.

ASSESSMENT

Progress toward community participation goals is evident through bus usage. Anxiety and logistical challenges (e.g., crowded bus, grocery list management) were identified. The head injury may impact her confidence and requires consideration in future support planning.

PLAN

To assist Sarah with grocery list organization for future shopping trips. To monitor the impact of the head injury on her participation and adjust support strategies as needed.

PARTICIPANT VOICE

Sarah emphasized her anxiety about leaving the house, the success of bus usage, and the need for help with grocery list planning. She mentioned her head injury affects her confidence but expressed readiness to continue working on community participation.

SUPPORT TYPE PROVIDED
